THE UNIVERSITY MACE AND BATONS

The mace and batons are symbols of the authority and history of the University and are made from balusters from the original main staircase of Old Main, erected in 1875, the oldest University building now standing. The batons are carried by members of the faculty who are serving as marshals.

MARSHALS' GOWNS

The gowns worn by the marshals are of the traditional University color, cardinal red.

HONOR STOLES

White or cardinal stoles denote students who are candidates for University Honors. Cardinal represents Honors (cum laude) and white represents High Honors (magna cum laude). White stoles with cardinal and white cords represent Highest Honors (summa cum laude).

THE UNIVERSITY SONG

In 1909 a prize of fifty dollars was offered for the best poem relating to the University of Arkansas that should be capable of being set to music and used as a college song. Out of many entries, that of Mr. Brodie Payne, 1906, of Hot Springs won the prize. The words were set to music by Professor H. D. Tovey, Director of the Conservatory of Music and Art at the University.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

The styles of gowns differentiate degree level. Trim of doctoral gowns indicates nature of degree (black or royal blue — Ph.D.; light blue — Ed.D.). Certain members of the faculty wear distinctive gowns and hoods authorized by their doctoral institutions. The lining of the hood denotes the color(s) of the institution awarding the degree. The official colors of the University of Arkansas are cardinal and white.

The color of the velvet band around the hood designates the academic degree of the wearer. Some examples are listed below:

Agriculture.....	Maize	Fine Arts	Dark Brown	Medicine.....	Green	Public Health.....	Salmon Pink
Architecture.....	Blue Violet	Forestry	Russett	Music.....	Pink	Science	Gold
Arts And Letters	White	Human Envi. Sci.....	Maroon	Nursing.....	Apricot	Social Science	Cream
Business And Bus. Admin.	Drab	Humanities.....	Crimson	Pharmacy.....	Solid Green	Social Work	Citron
Economics.....	Copper	Journalism.....	Crimson	Philosophy	Royal Blue	Speech.....	Silvery Gray
Education	Light Blue	Law	Purple	Physical Education	Sage Green	Theology.....	Scarlet
Engineering	Orange	Library Science	Lemon Yellow	Public Admin.	Peacock Blue	Veterinary Science.....	Gray

THE UNIVERSITY SEAL

The Seal of the University of Arkansas is affixed to each diploma and is stamped in gold on each diploma cover. The central element in the Seal is the front entrance to Old Main, the oldest building on campus.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Becca Stevens

Rev. Becca Stevens is an author, speaker, priest, social entrepreneur and the founder and president of Thistle Farms in Nashville, Tennessee.

Steven's father died in a traffic accident when she was 5 years old, and a short time later she was a victim of sexual abuse. These experiences inspired her to work with other survivors and to ultimately open a sanctuary for them.

She started her organization, originally under the name "Magdalene," in 1997 to serve women survivors of addiction, prostitution, sex trafficking and life on the streets. Twenty years later the organization continues to welcome women into a healing sanctuary with a two-year residential program and four social enterprises that employ 50 residents and graduates.

The Global Market of Thistle Farms helps employ more than 1,500 women, and the national network has more than 30 sister organizations.

Stevens has been featured in the New York Times, on ABC World News, NPR, PBS, and was recently named a 2016 CNN Hero. In 2011, the White House named her a "Champion of Change." She was featured in the PBS documentary, "A Path Appears," named Humanitarian of the Year by the Small Business Council of America as well as the T.J. Martell Foundation, and inducted into the Tennessee Women's Hall of Fame.

Stevens attended the University of the South and Vanderbilt Divinity School, and was ordained in 1991. She has been Chaplain of St. Augustine's Chapel at Vanderbilt since 1995.

She has been conferred honorary doctorates from The University of the South, Sewanee and General Theological Seminary, New York. Her newest book, "Love Heals," will be published by Harper Collins in September of 2017.

Stevens lives in Nashville with her husband, Grammy-winning songwriter Marcus Hummon, and their three sons.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Judge L. Clifford Davis

Judge L. Clifford Davis, an Arkansas native, is recognized nationally as a civil rights pioneer, but he is also an unsung hero in the effort to integrate the University of Arkansas School of Law.

Davis was born in Wilton, in 1924, the youngest of seven children. His parents were successful farmers.

Davis was denied admission to the segregated University of Arkansas law school, so enrolled in Howard University, in Washington, D.C. But he continued to apply to transfer to the U of A.

His persistence, and the threat of lawsuits, were key reasons the law school was integrated in 1948. In fact, when that decision was announced, Davis was specifically named as the student who would be admitted. There were restrictions, however: African American students would be taught in a separate classroom, work in a separate study room without direct access to the library, student dorms, or bathrooms.

Davis refused to accept those restrictions – but he had paved the way for Silas Hunt and all African American students who have followed.

Davis graduated from Howard in 1949, practiced law in Arkansas and worked with Thurgood Marshall on the landmark Brown v. Board of Education lawsuit before moving to Fort Worth, Texas, in 1954. There, he filed lawsuits that led to the desegregation of the Mansfield and Fort Worth public schools.

Davis made history again when he was appointed as criminal district court judge in 1983, then became the first African American to win an openly contested judicial race in Tarrant County. He remained on the bench until 2004 and was instrumental in establishing the first Drug Diversion Court in Texas. He has received many local and national awards.

Davis is an advocate for civil rights, but beyond that, for civil responsibility.

"I call it civil responsibility because I believe every human being is responsible and has a duty to work for the general welfare of the total population."

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

William T. Dillard II

Bill Dillard, chair and chief executive officer of Dillard's Inc., is the oldest son of retailing pioneer William T. Dillard, the founder of Dillard Department Stores. He was born in Nashville, Arkansas, on March 4, 1945, and began working part-time in his father's retail operations while still in school. He graduated from what is now the Sam M. Walton College of Business at the University of Arkansas in 1966 with a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration as an accounting major. He earned a Master of Business Administration from Harvard University two years later.

Dillard began his career in the family business in 1967 and joined the company's board of directors the same year. From 1977 to 1998, Dillard served as president and chief operating officer of the company. He succeeded his father as chief executive officer in 1998 and was named chair of the company in 2002.

Dillard was among the first in the industry to computerize his company's business operations. He has continued to guide Dillard's during the tumultuous changes in the retail clothing industry.

Dillard served on the University of Arkansas' Campaign Steering Committee and the Corporate and Foundation Relations Committee of the Campaign for the Twenty-First Century and now serves as a member of the Executive, Campaign Steering, and Corporate and Foundation Relations committees for Campaign Arkansas.

He is a former member of the Dean's Circle and Dean's Executive Advisory Board of the Walton College and has been a member of the Razorback Foundation for more than five decades.

Dillard received the University of Arkansas Chancellor's Medal in 2015 and joined his father in the Arkansas Business Hall of Fame in 2016.

Recessional

The University community wishes to express its appreciation for the assistance of all people who helped make the 2017 University of Arkansas Spring Commencement ceremony a success.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Kristine Gerhard Baker

Judge Kristine Gerhard Baker was sworn in as a U.S. District Judge for the Eastern District of Arkansas May 21, 2012.

She was born in Colorado Springs, Colorado, and is a charter-class graduate of the Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy in Aurora, Illinois. She received two Bachelor of Arts degrees, summa cum laude, in 1993 from Saint Louis University and a Juris Doctor, with High Honors, in 1996 from the University of Arkansas School of Law.

She began her legal career by serving as a law clerk for then Chief U.S. District Judge for the Eastern District of Arkansas Susan Webber Wright from 1996-98. Baker entered private practice and focused on commercial litigation until taking the bench.

Prior to taking the bench, Baker served on the boards of and as a volunteer for many community and legal organizations. She served as an appointed member of the Arkansas Supreme Court's Model Civil Jury Instructions Committee, as a board member and fellow of the Arkansas Bar Foundation and as a member and board member of the Pulaski County Bar Association.

She married John Baker, a Little Rock native and fellow lawyer, in December of 1994 between law school semesters. They have four children and reside in Little Rock.

The University community wishes to express its appreciation for the assistance of all people who helped make the 2017 University of Arkansas Spring Commencement ceremony a success.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI AWARD

John Paul Pendergrass
2017 Outstanding Alumni Award

John Paul Pendergrass is a sixth generation cattle producer in partnership with his father. The family operation, Pendergrass Cattle Co., Inc., is a stocker and feeder cattle ranching and grow yard located in the Arkansas River Valley. Pendergrass Cattle Co., Inc. was named National Stocker Operation in 2008 by Beef magazine. They market about 5,000 head of cattle every year, making them one of the largest stocker and feeder operations in Arkansas.

John Paul is a 1977 graduate of the University of Arkansas Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness. John Paul's wife, Cissie, is a retired middle school teacher and the couple has two grown children. Their son Eric is a graduate of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Agribusiness and is currently a practicing attorney in Fort Smith, Arkansas with an agricultural law emphasis. Their daughter Grace is a middle school teacher and is a graduate of Bumpers College.

John Paul has been the lead farmer for Arkansas in the Farm Journal Foundation's Farm Team Program since 2014. In that capacity, he has met with key members of the Arkansas Congressional delegation to discuss the importance of global food security, and participated in panel discussions on this issue at the 2014 Farm Journal Forum in Washington DC and at a Global Food Security event on the University of Arkansas campus in October 2015. He also serves on the Board of Directors for Innovative Livestock Services Inc., a farming and cattle feeding operation located in Kansas and Nebraska.

John Paul maintains strong ties with the University of Arkansas as an active alumnus and attends numerous sports events each year. He maintains close working relationships with College faculty on research focused on the future needs of the livestock industry. It is not unusual to see John Paul on campus several times a year consulting with faculty on a variety of issues. John Paul and the entire Pendergrass family are Razorbacks through and through.

YOUNG ALUMNI AWARD

Courtney Alyssa Meyers
2017 Young Alumni Award

Courtney Meyers, Ph.D., received her M.S. from the University of Arkansas in 2005. That same year, she received the Dale Bumpers College Outstanding Graduate Student Award. She is currently an associate professor in agricultural communications at Texas Tech University. She joined Texas Tech in 2008 and teaches undergraduate and graduate courses in Web design, public relations writing, and online media. She also serves as an academic advisor, Service Learning Faculty Fellow, and teaches a section of RaiderReady, the freshmen orientation seminar.

Meyers is a member of Texas Tech's Teaching Academy and has received a number of teaching awards at the college, university, and national levels. One of her recent teaching awards is the 2015 U.S. Department of Agriculture's New Teacher Award, which is given to only two recipients nationwide each year. Her contributions as an educator are reflected in Texas Tech's recent distinction of ranking as the top undergraduate agricultural communications program in the nation.

Her research interests include exploring the use of emerging media in agricultural communications, media coverage of agricultural issues, public perceptions of agricultural topics, and the scholarship of teaching and learning. Meyers has worked with her colleagues to secure more than $2 million in extramural funding. She serves as the Research Director for the Association for Communication Excellence and the Poster Review and Submission Manager for the American Association for Agricultural Education. Her research has been recognized with awards at both the regional and national level in these associations. She has also received the Article of the Year award twice for the Journal of Applied Communications.

Meyers earned her B.S. from Kansas State University and her Ph.D. from the University of Florida.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Cheryl Durst, Hon. FIIDA, LEED AP

Executive Vice President and CEO

The International Interior Design Association

An exceptional communicator, innovator, and visionary leader, Cheryl S. Durst has spurred progress, driven change, and encouraged the expansion of the Interior Design industry. As the Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of IIDA, Cheryl oversees the strategic direction of the association and is committed to broad recognition for the value of design and its significant role in society. She manages a team of 25, leads the International Board of Directors, and directs all outreach and programmatic efforts, including more than a dozen annual global design awards programs. Under Cheryl's leadership, IIDA advocates on behalf of the interior design profession and supports legislation that expands opportunities for commercial interior designers. She is also the creator of the innovative IIDA series, What Clients Want, which examines the designer/client relationship and publisher of Perspective, the association's thought-leadership journal.

Cheryl's ability to engage audiences with insight and humor has positioned her as a sought-after keynote speaker, panelist, and moderator at domestic and global conferences and seminars. With topics ranging from "The Future of Design" to "The Impact of Culture, Brand, and Place," her presentations explore the value of design as a social, cultural, and economic force. An enthusiastic and energetic volunteer, Cheryl has participated on numerous boards and committees, including the Kent State University College of Architecture and Environmental Design, Harrington College of Design, US Green Buildings Council, the Kohl Children's Museum Women's Board, and the Literacy Foundation of Chicago.

Prior to Cheryl's tenure at IIDA, she was the Director of Programs and Education with Merchandise Mart Properties in Washington, D.C. Cheryl's industry experience also includes employment with Knoll, American Seating, and Westinghouse Furniture Systems. She holds dual bachelor degrees in print journalism and economics from Boston University, is a LEED-accredited Professional (LEED AP) and a member of the World Future Society, and firmly believes in the connection between place, history, and human behaviour, as well as the effect attitude, culture, and design have on shared-space environments.

In recognition of her contributions to IIDA and the profession of design, Cheryl was awarded Honorary Fellowship by her International Board of Directors in 2009. In 2015, she was named one of Newcity's Design 50, an annual list of influencers who promote and present design in Chicago. Interior Design magazine, which named Cheryl to its Hall of Fame in 2016, has referred to her as "an ambassador for innovation and expansion, and a visionary strategist."

FULBRIGHT STUDENT SPEAKER

Ariel Romero

Fulbright College Student Speaker

Ariel Romero, is a Fulbright College student seeking a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in studio art with an emphasis in graphic design. He is also seeking a minor in communication and will be graduating with Fulbright Honors. He enrolled at the U of A after graduating as valedictorian of Haas Hall Academy, in Fayetteville, AR.

Ariel moved to Arkansas with his missionary parents from Honduras when he was six. He came to America as an undocumented immigrant but was unaware of his status until he was 16. He successfully appealed his status through DACA in order to legally remain in America. This was one of many obstacles he encountered while in pursuit of his education yet he continued on to be a highly successful student in college.

Since enrolling at the University, Ariel has been the recipient of the Silas Hunt Distinguished Scholarship from 2012-2016. He has had artwork selected for entry for a juried design competition about design and the Midwest, and was selected to attend the "Made by Few Design" conference and workshop. He has worked as a visual design intern at Global Campus and a graphic designer for Mullins Library. He has also served as a College Ambassador at Crystal Bridges Art Museum in Bentonville, AR and has been a mentor for international students through the Cross Cultural Mentor program.

His senior thesis was entitled "Welcome to America" which was a look at the lives of undocumented students at the University of Arkansas. Upon graduation, Ariel hopes to continue into graduate school here at the University in order to study communication.

OUTSTANDING YOUNG ALUMNI AWARD

Anna J. Egalite teaches in the Department of Educational Leadership, Policy and Human Development at North Carolina State University. She earned a doctorate in education policy from the U of A.

Egalite holds the rank of assistant professor. Her research focuses on the evaluation of education policies and programs intended to close racial and economic achievement gaps, such as the introduction of market forces into education through school choice and competition.

She has examined the competitive impacts of private school voucher programs on public school achievement, how voucher-induced student transfers affect racial stratification in public and private schools, and the effects of being assigned to a teacher of the same race and ethnicity. Egalite's scholarly articles have appeared in the journals Economics of Education Review, Education and Urban Society, Early Childhood Research Quarterly, and the Peabody Journal of Education, and her research has been featured in a number of mainstream media outlets, including The New York Times, USA Today, The Atlantic, Education Week, and Politico.

She also has a bachelor's degree in elementary education and history from St. Patrick's College in Dublin, Ireland, and a master's degree from the University of Notre Dame's Alliance for Catholic Education.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI AWARD IN EDUCATION

Yvonne Johnson has served as dean of the Humanities and Social Sciences Division at St. Louis Community College since 2007 and is the author of numerous books, chapters and articles. She earned a bachelor's degree in education from the U of A. She wrote The Voices of African American Women and edited Feminist Frontiers: Women Who Shaped the Midwest.

Johnson previously taught at the University of Central Missouri, where she received three grants from the National Endowment for the Humanities for summer study and received the university's highest award, the Byler Award for Excellence in Teaching. She led several study abroad semesters for students in the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, and in Ghana, West Africa. In 2006, she received a Fulbright Teaching Award to Envila Institute in Minsk, Belarus.

She co-authored and directed the Africana Studies Program in 2001 and accepted the position of director of Women's Studies in 2004.

Johnson also has a master's degree in history from the University of Colorado and a doctorate in history of ideas from the University of Texas at Dallas.

OUTSTANDING ALUMNI AWARD IN HEALTH AND HUMAN SERVICES

Robin Bowen became the 12th president of Arkansas Tech University in Russellville in 2014. She earned a master's degree in rehabilitation counseling from the U of A. Bowen is the first female president of a public, four-year university in Arkansas. She was selected as a 2016 recipient of the INSIGHT into Diversity Presidents and Chancellors Giving Back Award, the only national award that honors college presidents and chancellors for their commitment to diversity by giving back to their campus and community. In 2015, she was named one of AY Magazine's Most Powerful Women. Bowen serves on the board of directors of the River Valley Shelter for Battered Women and Children, the Russellville Area Chamber of Commerce, the Arkansas River Valley Alliance for Economic Development, and the Arkansas State Chamber of Commerce. She is a member of the Pope County steering committee for Uncommon Communities, a WinRock Breakthrough Community Development Initiative.

Bowen also holds a doctorate in higher education administration from Texas Tech University and a bachelor's degree in occupational therapy from the University of Kansas.

AWARD FOR DISTINGUISHED CONTRIBUTION

Reed Greenwood served as dean of the College of Education and Health Professions for eight years during a 35-year career at the U of A. He earned a doctorate in counselor education from the U of A, as well as master's and bachelor's degrees.

While serving as dean, the college secured a gift of $20 million for scholarships and faculty chairs, increased enrollment by over 50 percent, recruited more than 50 new faculty members, and increased the college endowment from less than $4 million to over $34 million. He has published numerous papers and made presentations in the fields of counseling, rehabilitation and education. He was appointed by President Ronald Reagan to the President's Committee on the Employment of People with Disabilities and by Gov. Bill Clinton to the Arkansas Board of Examiners in Counseling.

Greenwood served on the Fayetteville Board of Education, Blue Ribbon Commission on Public Education in Arkansas, Northwest Arkansas Symphony Orchestra, Walton Arts Center, University of Arkansas Alumni Association, United Way of Washington County, Lifestyles, Sources for Independent Living and as Junior and Senior Warden of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Fayetteville. His current service includes the Fayetteville Public Education Foundation, Ambassadors of the Arkansas School for Mathematics, Sciences and the Arts, Advisory Board of the Donald W. Reynolds Institute on Aging, Towers of Old Main, University of Arkansas Chancellor's Society and University of Arkansas Capital Campaign Committee.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Sandra Keiser Edwards

Deputy Director
Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art

Sandra Keiser Edwards is deputy director of Crystal Bridges Museum of American Art and former associate vice chancellor for development at the University of Arkansas for nine years.

She has been a key member of the Crystal Bridges leadership team since 2007, helping oversee the founding of the museum, as well as its construction and successful opening in November 2011. Since that time, the museum has welcomed more than 1.2 million visitors. Edwards continues to be a guiding force in establishing this institution, creating and growing connections to bring increased tourism to the area, as well as offering museum visitors unparalleled arts, cultural and educational experiences.

With her late husband, Clay Edwards, she helped direct the University of Arkansas' groundbreaking Campaign for the Twenty-First Century, a significant initiative that raised more than $1 billion for academic programs, including the founding of an honors college and endowing the graduate school.

She also served as director of development (outreach and cooperative extension) and director of station development (public broadcasting) at Pennsylvania State University, posts she held from 1988 to 1998. She created the first comprehensive advancement program in the field of continuing and distance education at a public university, and she was part of the management team that created Penn State's World Campus, a virtual university for students at a distance from the physical location. As a result of these achievements, the university awarded Edwards the Outreach Pioneer Award.

Edwards holds a bachelor's degree from Lenoir-Rhyne College in Hickory, North Carolina, where she served on the board of trustees from 1978-1986, and a master's degree from Western Illinois University. She was awarded an honorary doctorate from Western Illinois University in 2014.

Fayetteville Jazz Collective

The Fayetteville Jazz Collective was founded in May, 2009, as a professional jazz orchestra comprised of musicians active in the Northwest Arkansas area. The FJC is an 18-piece group that seeks to preserve and enhance the big band tradition through education of young audiences, aspiring musicians, and the general public. It has performed the works of Duke Ellington, Billy Strayhorn, Thad Jones, Gil Evans, Oliver Nelson, Sammy Nestico, Frank Foster, Tito Puente, Gordon Goodwin, and many others. The FJC also provides an outlet for local composers and arrangers, such as James Greeson, Ben Harris, and Rick Salonen, the band's baritone saxophonist and "composer in residence." The FJC hopes to continue to enrich the cultural life of the greater Northwest Arkansas community through performances and outreach. Contact information is available on their website at www.fayettevillejazzcollective.org

Soloist Cheri Headrick

Cheri Headrick recently graduated from the University of Arkansas with a Master of Music in Choral Conducting and is currently pursuing a post-graduate certificate in Vocal Performance.

The background of the entire page is a faded, grayscale photograph of a large, multi-story university building with many windows and classical architectural features. Bare tree branches are visible in the upper left corner. The text 'UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS' is in a serif font, and 'Commencement' is in a large, elegant script font. A large, stylized 'A' is positioned in the lower right, overlapping the building image. A solid black horizontal bar runs across the middle of the page, separating the top text from the bottom image.

COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER

Adam Monroe

BSCHE 1988

President—Novozymes Americas, Novozymes

Adam Monroe is from Fayetteville, Arkansas. During college he worked for McClelland Consulting Engineers. After receiving his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering in 1988, Monroe accepted a position as a process engineer for Freeze Technologies in North Carolina.

In 1991, Monroe joined Novo Nordisk, a biotechnology company headquartered in Copenhagen, Denmark. In 2000 Novo Nordisk spun out Novozymes, a separate public company specializing in the production of enzymes and microorganisms utilized in over forty diverse markets. He has worked for that company for over two decades in numerous roles.

As Recovery Engineer, Monroe successfully introduced the first genetically modified fermentation strain in the United States. As Director of Supply Chain Operations for the Americas, which also included responsibility for Global Capacity and Demand Planning, Monroe led a successful effort to establish Novozymes global supply line of enzymes for the biofuels market. Monroe also held the title of President for North America. As President for the Americas, Monroe has responsibility for locations across the Americas.

Monroe serves as the Chair of the Biotechnology Industry Organizations (BIO) Industrial and Environmental Board. He is also involved in developing models for business to engage and inspire students at all levels, particularly through the Early College Program of North Carolina with an emphasis on rural schools.

Monroe was inducted into the Arkansas Academy of Chemical Engineers in 2011. He serves on the chemical engineering department's Industrial and Professional Advisory Council. In 2015, he received the Distinguished Alumni Award from the College of Engineering.

COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING HALL OF FAME

Established in 1965, the Hall of Fame is the highest honor bestowed by the College of Engineering at the University of Arkansas. The award recognizes prominent graduates and leaders who have made outstanding contributions to the engineering profession and to society as a whole. Members of the Hall of Fame have, throughout their careers, made a difference to the engineering profession and demonstrated concern for improving their communities. Their achievements have brought favorable attention to the College of Engineering, to the University of Arkansas and to the state of Arkansas.

The Hall of Fame is located on the third floor of Bell Engineering Center.

GUEST SPEAKER

Ed Wilson

BSBA '80

CEO/Founder, Dreamcatcher Media, LLC

Ed Wilson is an entrepreneurial-minded, modern media executive who moves seamlessly between traditional and emerging media, and gracefully from the hard-edged executive boardroom and sales arena to the free-thinking space of content creation and talent development.

Wilson is a partner at New Form Digital, a digital studio that develops and produces scripted content for global digital platforms and was created in partnership with Brian Grazer, Ron Howard, Craig Jacobson, Jim Wiatt, and Discovery Communications. Wilson is also the Executive Chairman and CEO of Dreamcatcher Broadcasting, a television group comprised of 3 stations: WNEP, an affiliate of ABC serving Wilkes Barre, PA; WTKR, a CBS affiliate serving Norfolk, VA; and WGNT, an affiliate of CW serving Norfolk, VA.

Previously, Wilson served as Executive Chairman of Timeline Labs – a big-data social intelligence network that provides the world's leading media companies and brands with social content focusing on hyper-local, national and global news – which he successfully guided to an acquisition by SeaChange International, Inc. (NASDAQ: SEAC), a TV software-services company.

Prior to these recent endeavors, Wilson was President of Tribune Broadcasting, and Chief Revenue Officer of The Tribune Company (2008-2011). Earlier in his career, Wilson held top-level executive roles with FOX Television Network (President, 2004-2008), NBC Enterprises (Founder, President 2000-2004), and CBS Enterprises (Founder, President, COO 1996-2000). Wilson joined CBS when the network acquired MaXaM Entertainment, the independent syndication company he founded in partnership with A.H. Belo Corp in 1996.

In addition to his aforementioned roles, Wilson currently serves as an advisor to Guggenheim Partners. Wilson is a member of the Board of Trustees for Southern Methodist University, the Executive Board of the Cox School of Business at Southern Methodist University, the Dean's Executive Advisory Board of the Walton College at the University of Arkansas, and is a board member for both the San Diego Zoo and SeaChange International, Inc. (NASDAQ: SEAC). He received a BSBA in finance and banking from the Walton College in 1980.
